Chapter 1 - Signs of the times

The New Evangelization, a global process fitting into an integrated vision and understanding in order to bring together all the essential elements, is naturally based, under the movement of the Holy Spirit, in the dynamism of the history of the world led by the hand of the Father until its completion in the Kingdom of Heaven.

The intelligence of mercy and grace are part of the divine, holy and eternal covenant which belongs to the mystery of relational love of the Most Holy Trinity.

Divine mercy, which has never covered any denial of evil, is continually at work proclaiming the truth with love everywhere.

Through openness and acceptance of the sanctifying Spirit, holy chrism of the soul, man is able to combat the globalized culture of well-being and the emotional which anesthetizes the globalized crisis of the family which generates spiritual devastation under the pretext of a misunderstood freedom and the profound alteration of human ecology generating often irreversible social fragmentation.

Man must let the divine fire burn the abode of sensuality in order to be able to access the life of the spirit and drink from the holy writing which remains an inexhaustible mine containing nuggets of love.

The mystery of absolute love and infinite communion of the Most Holy Trinity is at the service of the divine pedagogy of grace which guides the people of God towards the Kingdom of Heaven.

When man commits a sin he participates unspeakably in the work of destruction of creation.

God wanted Jesus to be the ransom of men's salvation to satisfy his justice.

It is sometimes necessary to have heroic patience in tribulations.

Conversion is a divine election. Every man who experiences it must allow himself to be seized by God himself, respond to this call and go on a mission to spread charity throughout all humanity. To be a missionary of love assigned to spiritual service and nourished mainly by inspired writing... What a marvelous vocation!

During the satanic deluge that permanently overwhelms the world, the only sure refuge, the new ark of love, is in the Immaculate Heart of the all-holy, the queen of heaven, Mary.

Heavenly perfection in unity is a gift from God. When a man dies to grace through grave sin, his soul is in danger; continuing to advance on the path of love with joy and perseverance is salutary.

The exacerbated, selfish and globalized individualism which affirms itself with pride by constructing itself according to its own desires considered as an absolute and which pours out in the exacerbation of sentimental relationships valued by an unbridled, narcissistic, changing and unstable affectivity is incapable finally to prevent the tenacious and patient spreading of the gospel of grace which gives courage to do good everywhere and always.

Good has no limit to spread while evil has one.

The man who remains chained to the slavery of sin indirectly increases his dark future sufferings. No one, of any nation, is excluded from the Kingdom of love.

Some men knowingly and often abuse the divine mercy in order to be able to freely outrage the divine precepts while satisfying their natural whims.

To be able to access the City of Holy Love the requirement to separate definitively from the world imposes itself as being radical and absolute; to be able to live in a bubble of grace, in constant development, in the midst of the darkened world is the exclusive work of the mercy of the Most High.
